He was more than glad when his brother reached Goshen this morning and furnished a $1,000 bail bond for him, securing his release at noon.

Mrs. Earle with her child and servants left for New York yesterday, and soon as Earle ascertained this he boarded the 450 train from Monroe for New York in search of her. Chief of Police Henry Osterhoudt swore in several deputies to protect Earle from the violence of the large crowd which had seembled at the station. Many threats were uttered that tar and feathers would be applied should he return to
